REV. W. C. GRAHAM
IS CHAPLAIN FOR 148TH BATTALIONMajor English Is Provisionally Company Commander.

KAISER'S TEMPERATURE

Novel Recruiting Schemes Are Being Followed By the New Battalion.The chaplain of the 148th Battalion has been appointed, the Rev. W. C.
Graham, M.A., S.T.L., being the man to get this position.Rev. Mr. Graham, who is the registrar of the Wesleyan Theological College, offered himself to the 148th in any capacity whatever, as private, corporal or anything, and received his position of chaplain with the rank of captain. He is a graduate of the University of Toronto, a corporal in the C.O.T.C., and professor of the Old Testament in the Wesleyan College, and his general popularity will make his appointment a welcome one.At the corner of Craig and Bleury streets, in the old Witness building,
there is at present a daily bulletin system being run by the 148th Battalion recruiting organizers. The novelty of the scheme and the humorous form which it takes is an attraction of no small power to the crowds that continually swirl round the busy downtown corner. Some three or four boards are always hung up inscribed with the very latest movements of the Kaiser, Colonel Magee and the 148th Battalion.One, for instance, on Saturday last reported the extreme condition of Wilhelm II, whose fever had become so aggravated that his thermometer had reached the unheard of height of 148 degrees. The wires, still hot from the disclosure, said that the Imperial patient had been heard to gasp out in a very low voice: "Gott straffe Magee."Since the news of the commencement of the recruiting for the 148th was given out, all the street cars and vehicles for miles around had blocked up, while the Kaiser had been heard to say a naughty word when he received the news.Methods of this sort are amusing and effective in recruiting work, and on this as in several other respects the enterprise of the 148th officers are to be congratulated.Another officer to be provisionally appointed on Colonel Magee's staff as a company commander is Major A.
Soden English.Major English, before the war, was an officer of the Grenadier Guards and enlisted as soon as war was declared, going across with the Royal Montreal Regiment. He went through all the severe engagements which the 14th Battalion experienced up to the battle of Givenchy, in which engagement he was gassed. After being some months in hospital, he was transferred to the 23rd Reserve Battalion, and not being yet fit for service returned to Canada on sick leave. Major English entirely recovered during his stay here, and instead of rejoining the 23rd, has joined the 148th under Colonel Magee.The 148th is showing its resourcefulness in a number of its recruiting stunts. During his presence here last week Harry Lauder at each of his appearances made a short recruiting speech on behalf of the battalion.
The Montreal Street Railway has loaned to the battalion two of its cars, which have been transplanted from the tracks to Dominion and Victoria Squares, and are a unique form of "recruiting office," and one which cannot escape notice.Although recruiting was not so active on Saturday with the 148th as on the two previous days, yet a number of applicants presented themselves successfully. The recruits are taken on strength and drilled for a certain time before being put into uniform, so that when they do don the khaki they have acquired a soldierly appearance.Considerable work is being done on the brass band, but a number of bandmen are still required, and it is an excellent opportunity for men with musical attainments in this line to join the ranks, and thus serve their country in their own particular sphere of usefulness. A good band makes a great difference to a battalion, and Colonel Magee is taking as great care
in this department as in all the others of the 148th.Among those sworn in on Saturday were:P. O. Connell, who has served six months with the Army Service Corps.A. H. Barnard, five months with the Royal Highlanders. His father, who joined the colors in England, was wounded at Ypres. He has also a brother at the front.J. Sadler, another member of the Auxiliary Battalion and C.O.T.C., to join the 148th.C. H. Hardman, seven months with the Westmount Rifles.

SCIENCE MEN PROTEST.

Present Petition Re Granting of Years
For Men Desiring to Enlist.Acting upon the presentation of a petition signed by more than 150 students of the Faculty, the Science Undergraduates' Society has decided to take up the matter of the granting of years to undergraduates who wish to enlist for overseas services. The society has therefore called a meeting
for this afternoon, at 4.30, in room 33, Engineering Building, for a discussion of the question. It is probable that the viewpoint of the student body on the matter will be presented in a thorough manner, and a representative attendance is asked.The Faculty has recently decreed that students who desire to secure their years upon enlisting for active service cannot obtain this concession before March 15, and then only upon the passing of special examinations.After this meeting the executive of the society and the presidents of the different years will meet to decide on the final arrangement of the programme for the smoker on Wednesday night.WILSON'S POLICY

FOUR TEAMS SPEAKING

"The Lit" Will Hold Its Weekly
Meeting in Strathcona Hall.The Theological College and the Presbyterian College, the classes of Arts '17 and Science '16, these will be the stages of two debates at the Strathcona Hall this evening at eight o'clock, under the auspices of the Literary and Debating Society of McGill.Last week, owing to sickness and other adversity, the contesting teams were unable to put in an appearance;
the two Law teams who promised an innovation in the shape of a debate in French failing on account of one of their number's illness, and the Arts
'15 team finding no opposers to their question. Law '16 defaulted to Law
'17, and Science '15 defaulted to Arts '18.One of this evening's subjects at least is a novel one, while the other,
according to one of the debaters, has only one side. The Theological Colleges will debate the question, "Resolved that President Wilson's policy regarding Mexico has shown sound statesmanship." The Arts Juniors will meet the Science Seniors over the touchy subject, "Resolved that a man should think too much of himself rather than too little."Every one is, of course, very welcome to these debates, which never lack interest, and are immensely improving to those who wish to make them so. The inevitable refreshments will be served.

SECOND LECTURE
BY DEAN ADAMS
GIVEN YESTERDAYExplained How Age of the Earth Is Determined.

PROGRESSION OF NATURE

Species of Flora and Fauna Have Been Formed By Process
Of Development.Dean Adams gave his second lecture on "The Relation of Science to Religion" yesterday afternoon, to a well-filled room.He opened by explaining that, although written history only went back a short time, yet scientists were able to trace the history of the flora and fauna back for many million years.
This was done by examining the different forms of rock on the earth.
Each belonged to a certain period, of which the oldest is found in the Laurentian Mountains. It is reckoned that the earth is roughly one hundred million years old. In these different forms of rock different species of flora and fauna are found. The question of how this came about has been studied especially during the last hundred years.The first theory put forth was that certain definite species were created, some cataclysm took place on the earth, and all were destroyed. New creations then took place, and were in their turn destroyed. Thus, traces of several different successions of species are found in these forms of rocks belonging to different ages.But this theory was promptly knocked on the head, for intervening species were found. That is, no definite line could be drawn between the different successions, and some species were found to be in different successions, only slightly changed.Then the theory arose that species gradually changed. In the earliest forms of life the simplest form of animal life were found, and these gradually became more and more complex
as molluscs, fishes, reptiles, and mammals. To strengthen this theory, he stated that missing links were found.
Animals half bird and half reptile.
There is still an animal to be found half bird and half mammal. When it came to anatomy still more startling proofs were forthcoming. Some animals were found to have organs that they made no use of. We ourselves have an appendix, an organ which is found more fully developed in lower animals.Lamarque first thought of this theory of gradual development when he thought of the giraffe. Undoubtedly the giraffe gradually stretched its neck by grazing off trees. But Darwin was the first to make actual experiments. He took several litters of common rock pigeons, mated those that had a tendency to large tails, those that had extra large chests, and those that flew in a peculiar fashion.
After a few generations he had three species, the fan-tails, the pouters, and the tumblers.More remarkable discoveries were made, however. It was discovered that there was an arithmetical relation between the different characteristics of the offspring of similar species.
At this point the Church began to dispute the arguments of this scientist.
Huxley and Tyndall, Darwin's successors, had fierce controversies, which are still remembered by some of us.Dean Adams now went on to show that the theories of these scientists were not incompatible with the doctrines of the Church. These theories have collapsed when applied to the succession of the higher powers possessed by man, such as his morals and aesthetic gifts. The theories have a remarkable agreement with the account of creation in Genesis, where it is stated that the lower forms of life were created first and the higher afterwards. The places where Genesis seems to disagree is where it is stated that light was created before the heavenly bodies and vegetable matter before the sun. But scientists admit that there was a glow before the heavenly bodies were created, and that vegetable matter could grow before the sun was formed.At the close of the meeting it was announced that Prof. McNaughton would speak next Sunday in the large hall, and Dean Adams would continue his course afterwards.Among those present was President Tory, of Alberta University, who before his appointment there had had an active share in the work of erecting Strathcona Hall. President Tory spoke a few words before the meeting broke up.

Training in Earnest

So the University of Toronto is to have an Overseas Battalion attached to its Contingent of the Canadian Officers' Training Corps, its members to be trained only to hold commissions or to serve in the ranks overseas. According to President Falconer, who introduced the scheme at a meeting of the University College Literary Society a few days ago, the suggestion was received from McGill, and McGill, as the organizer of the pioneer Officers' Training Corps in Canada and as the possessor of the first contingent to attempt training on a war basis, will be very much interested in the announcement and in the development of the scheme. It is proposed that every student who joins this Overseas Training Battalion will immediately drop all academic work and proceed to become a private in a regular overseas battalion. A guarantee will likely be given that every man who shows signs of efficiency as an officer will receive a commission and be attached to an overseas unit. It is proposed to station the Battalion during the summer at Niagara-on-the-Lake; it will not go overseas as a unit, but its members, as they develop in efficiency, will be drafted into other overseas units as commissioned officers.

"Varsity" wanted to form a battery of artillery for overseas service; it even proposed a brigade of artillery. But the powers that be frowned upon the proposal, even though Queen's has brought one battery up to strength and is now organizing a second. "No," said the authorities, "we will not let students go overseas in a body; it is better that they should be divided among different units, preferably in the capacity of officers. Therefore, we will form an overseas training battalion to turn out officers."

To the students who desire to go overseas in the commissioned ranks (and their name is legion) the scheme has much to appeal. Academic studies will be dropped and the work of preparation entered into in earnest. A long and complete course of training will be undergone, and the successful candidate, after passing through the ranks with collateral suitable instruction, will be placed on a most efficient footing. It is strange how coincident is the action which has been taken by the University of Toronto authorities with the expression of sentiment at McGill itself not so very long ago. There was at that time expressed a need for whole-hearted participation in the war-game, a need for just such a scheme as has been outlined at the University of Toronto, and which is likely to be put into effect. Get into the game, heart and soul, and no half-way measures; this was the feeling of many when the C.O.T.C. was under discussion.

And now comes the question of how the ranks of this Overseas Training Battalion are to be filled. At the University of Toronto there is expressed a doubt if the students of that institution alone will be able to complete the establishment of such a unit, and there is talk of admitting others, not University men. If there is doubt as to the ability of one Contingent of the Canadian Officers' Training Corps to fill the battalion, why not open it to members of other Contingents and allow the object of the Corps—the training of efficient officers—to be attained in the best manner possible? There are scores of University men who would be eager to jump at just such an opportunity as that which would be presented to them. Instead of allowing the Battalion to be composed of men some of whom have never had any connection with a University or a college, there would be created a unit composed entirely of University men. The plan is worth thinking over.

Back of all this there lies the question: What is to become of the Universities Companies? When the first of these was formed, it was found to be composed almost entirely of University men. Since then the proportion of bona fide University men in each succeeding Company has been gradually decreasing until the title "Universities" now bids fair to become a mockery. McGill is sending out Companies bearing the name "Universities," but having in their ranks many who are not University men, though all are splendid fellows. And now the source of the recruiting of the University men in the Companies—the Western Provinces—is to be removed through the organization of a battalion of students among the various Colleges and Universities of Toronto, too, has contributed largely to the raising of the later Companies, and now its men will be sent to the Overseas Training Battalion. Also, the authorities have put their foot down upon the sending of students overseas in groups. What is to become of the Companies? Are they to be still sent out bearing the title "Universities," yet with a small proportion of University men in them, or are reinforcements for the Princess Pats to be sent forward in another way? The answer to these questions McGill will await with interest.

The Hockey Team

Saturday night, in a rink several hundred miles distant from Montreal, the McGill senior team played before an audience which included at least three hundred McGill men; to-night at the Arena, within a mile of the University itself, there will be perhaps a dozen McGill men to greet the team with the McGill yell when it steps on the ice. Funny, isn't it? Yet it is what has been happening all season, and is likely to continue to happen until the undergraduates of the University awake to the fact that they have a senior hockey team, that it does play hockey, and that it may be seen playing hockey every Monday evening. If the McGill Hockey Club had to rely upon the receipts from students of the University for its maintenance, there would not be sufficient funds on hand to pay the car-fare of the members of the team to and from the rink.

Did you ever see the football team, even in a losing season, supported by perhaps a dozen students at its games? Then, why should not similar support be given to the hockey team, which is a major athletic organization, and doing what it can to promote clean, healthy sport among undergraduates? True, the games in which the team has taken part this season have not always resulted successfully for McGill, but every undergraduate should realize the need of his loyal support to put the team ahead. It is most discouraging for those who are devoting time and energy towards the placing ahead of McGill to receive practically no support at all from the student body.

GRADUATES' DEPARTMENT

MILITARY FUNERAL FOR LT.-COL. YATES IS ANNOUNCEMENT

Full Military Honors Will be Paid Dead Officer.

NEWS OF GRADUATES

Memorial Services for Lt.-Col. Yates Held in England During the Week.

The body of the late Lieut.-Col. H. B. Yates, Med. '93, of No. 3 General Hospital (McGill), who died a week ago at Ramsgate, Eng., will be brought back to Canada by the Allan liner Sicilian, and will be accorded a full military funeral.

Brig.-Gen. E. W. Wilson, G.O.C., of the 4th Division, is making arrangements to pay full honors to the officer who formerly was associated with him as assistant director of medical services.

Colonel Yates will be buried in the family plot at the Mount Royal cemetery.

A London despatch says: "In the ancient Priory Church, established at Clerkenwell by the Knight Hospitallers of the Order of St. John of Jerusalem, a memorial service was held in honor of Lieut.-Col. H. B. Yates, late second in command of McGill General Hospital. Surgeon-General Carleton Jones was present, representing H.R. H. the Duke of Connaught, Grand Prior of the order.

"The service, conducted by Canon Edgar Shepherd, chaplain of the order and of St. James' Palace, was of a simple character, with two hymns, reading the Scriptures and prayers, with Chopin's Funeral March as a prelude, and the Dead March in Saul at the close. There was no discourse, but the representative company present bore silent testimony to the esteem in which the deceased medical officer was held. The family mourners present were the widow; Miss Emily Yates, daughter; Montagu, son, and Corp. W. H. Dunning and Mr. Bunling. There were also present Sir George and Lady Perley, Lieut.-Col. Sir Montagu and Lady Allan, Lady Drummond, Mrs. Rivers Bulkeley, Lt.-Col. Adami and Col. Hodgkiss."

In St. Michael's Church, on Tuesday morning, the marriage was solemnized of Miss Florence Geraldine Cunningham, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Cunningham, to Dr. W. Ewart Williams, Med. '13, of Charlottetown, P.E.I. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father John Macdonald, of Charlottetown, uncle of the bridegroom. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a gown of white tulle and lace, with tulle veil and wreath of orange blossoms, and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and white roses. There were two bridesmaids, Miss Josephine C. Peeny, of Portland, Me., and Miss Inez Kearney, who were dressed alike in peach-colored tulle, with picture hat of the same shade covered with black and gold lace, and carried sunset roses. Dr. J. R. Brown, of Charlottetown, was best man, and Messrs. J. Donnelly and J. Maher were the ushers. Mrs. Cunningham, mother of the bride, wore black charmeuse with overdress of black Carrickmacross lace, with corsage bouquet of orchids, and a black velvet hat with Paradise plumes. To the bride the bridegroom gave a diamond and platinum pendant; to the bridesmaids, cameo rings; to the best man, a pearl tie pin, and to the ushers, gold links. Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the residence of the bride's parents, 2206 Hutchison street, and later Dr. and Mrs. Williams left for a trip to New York, Washington and Boston.

The death has occurred at Victoria, B.C., of Lieut.-Col. Alfred Codd, Med. '65, who was a veteran of the North-West Rebellion, and was known all over western Canada as an able surgeon. He had lived in Victoria for eight years, and was connected with the Permanent Army Medical Corps (retired list).

Lieut. R. E. Stavert, past student of McGill, has been appointed Assistant Adjutant of the 119th Battalion, C.E.F. Lieut. Stavert has already seen service at the front and been wounded.

Capt. J. S. Jenkins, Med. '11, medical officer of the 24th Battalion, C.E.F., is in London, on leave from the firing line.

The Calgary Herald says: "Word has been received that the transfer of Captain Cyril G. Child, Sci. '11, from the First Canadian Divisional Cyclists Corps to the 82nd Battalion, C.E.F., has been approved. The gallant young captain, who is the only son of J. T. Child, Government engineer at Banff, is recovering satisfactorily from the severe wounds he received at Bailleul, France, and it is expected that he will be able to join his new battalion at an early date. The Herald has it on excellent authority that when he does it will be as Major Child, of the 82nd—a promotion which will be a most popular one."

Lieut.-Col. F. Minden Cole, Law '97, who has been officer commanding the 99th Siege Battery, has been appointed commander of the Canadian Siege Brigade.

MILL-LIKE OPERATION

Describes How Wounded Are Passed Through Various Hospitals.

When war was declared, A. L. Lockwood, Med. '10, was in Germany carrying on post-graduate studies. He made his way out of the country, and, reaching England, immediately applied to join the Royal Army Medical Corps. He was accepted and was one of the first Canadians to land in France with the British Expeditionary Force. He is now Captain Lockwood, of 36 Casualty Clearing Station, B.E.F., and writes:

"Perhaps you will be interested to know the sort of a life that it has been my lot to lead over there. I won't linger long over the nature of the work and the condition of life as I have found it during the last sixteen months, but will try to tell you a few things regarding life and work under present conditions, and with a forecast of the future here. Since August 1 have been attached to either stationary or general hospitals.

"These differ now only as regards the number of beds. A stationary hospital has normally 500 beds, and must be able to expand to 750 within a few hours' notice. A general hospital has about 750 beds, and must be able to expand to 1,150.

"At first these hospitals moved about as our front lines changed, but now for twelve months have been stationary. I have been attached first to a stationary and latterly to a general hospital, as surgical specialist. "We got our convoys in numbers from 50 to 150 within eighteen hours to four and five days after they were wounded, depending on the severity of the engagement and the ability of the field stretcher-bearers to remove the wounded. Many a man has lain out days and days, and yet seems none the worse for it.

"However, after fifteen months of such work, and after repeated applications for a transfer, I was moved to a casualty clearing station. A casualty clearing station is exactly what the name implies. The wounded are picked up by the field stretcher-bearers and put into rubber-tired, horse-drawn wagons—or motor ambulances, which are rapidly replacing the wagons—and are taken at once to the casualty clearing station. The C.C.S.s, as the latter are termed, must not be over eight miles from the front line of battle. The staff of a C.C.S. consists of eight surgeons and nine sisters (nurses), besides 88 trained male nursing orderlies.

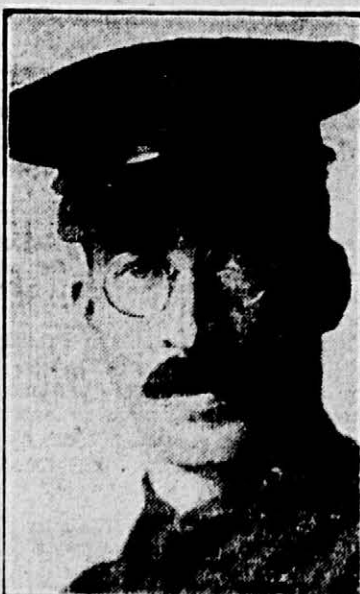

"The surgery of a C.C.S. consists only in operations to save life. If there is such a thing as a Dante's inferno on earth, it is a C.C.S. during a battle. The wounded are carried to it in hundreds. They are packed together in rows on the ground or stretchers, each waiting his turn to be taken to the operating room. As many as eleven hundred such stretchers have been strewn about one C.C.S. in a single night.

"The C.C.S. works like a mill. The surgeons and sisters work in relays. The wounded man has his operation, and at once, if fit to travel, is sent on in motor ambulances to a hospital train at a railroad head. Only the most serious cases must be kept—only those not fit to travel. And so the mill grinds on, till all those cases have been operated on and are safe to be moved."

STUDENTS' COUNCIL.

The Students' Council meets at the Union this afternoon at 5 o'clock.

SCIENCE STUDENTS WILL HOLD SMOKER WEDNESDAY NIGHT
Function Will Be Held In the Union.

DR. ADAMS TO BE PRESENT
Enjoyable Affair Being Arranged By Science Undergraduates — All Invited.

On Wednesday night, at eight o'clock, in the Union, the big event of the year from the Science students' viewpoint, will take place. It will be a Smoker, and every Science student is invited to attend.

A fine list of speakers, including Dr. Adams, Profs. Brown, Evans, Sullivan, Lieut.-Col. Magee, officer commanding the 148th Battalion, and many others, have been obtained.

All those who have heard these men know what a fine time is in store for them.

Dean Adams always has something of interest to say to Science men, and his talks are always looked forward to. Profs. Brown, Sullivan and Evans can never forget that they were boys once, and their little witticisms always bring rounds of applause.

In sharp contrast to this we have Lieut.-Col. Magee. He will speak a few words in regard to his battalion, the 148th, which is now recruiting. In times like these no function is complete without some reference to things military, and a better man than Lieut.-Col. Magee could not be found to bring forward in simple manner the needs of the Empire at the present time.

A splendid musical programme has been drawn up also.

The McGill Mandolin Club will play several selections, and the Freshman quartette, who performed so successfully at the Freshman-Sophomore Smoker earlier in the year, will also entertain the crowd with several pieces. In the singing line, Mr. Campbell, a first year Medical student, and George Dick, of Science '18, have consented to favor the company with a few songs. Jimmie Rice and Co. will also give some songs.

Campbell and Dick have sung at several smokers this year, and they have always been well encored. With regard to Jimmie Rice, little need be said. No function would be complete without Jimmie. He is well known to everybody, and the only trouble with him is the boys can't hear enough of him. He is called upon time and again, until he has exhausted his store of songs, which is by no means a small one.

In former years he was supported by his brother at the piano, and Charlie Weldon, another singer. These two are at present on active service, so Keith Milten, one of the best pianists in the city, has been obtained to accompany him on the piano.

The Executive of the Science Undergraduate Society have been trying to get Edmund Burke, the well-known Canadian singer, now attached to the 148th Battalion to sing. So far no reply has been received from him, but the Executive have every hope that his services will be obtained.

Besides the above mentioned artists, many others will perform, and an enjoyable evening is assured everybody.

THEOLOGUES PLAY BASKETBALL GAME
Representatives From Congregational College Defeat Diocesan College Team.

At the Wesleyan College gymnasium on Saturday was played one of the concluding games of the Co-operating Theological Colleges Basketball League. The contestants were representatives from the Diocesan and the Congregational Colleges. Mr. Johnson, of Wesleyan College, was a capable and impartial referee. The game was closely contested throughout, although the score was decidedly one-sided. Schofield and Steed were the stars of the encounter. The final score was 33-22 in favor of the Congregationalists. Line-up:

FOUL PLAY MARS R.V.C. BASKETBALL

Both Teams Went Down to Defeat Before the Teams of the Physical Eds.

The third R.V.C. League basketball match was played in the Bancroft School on Saturday afternoon, R.V.C. vs. McGill School of Physical Education.

The Senior teams played first. During the first half the play was fast, and at times even wild. The combination of the R.V.C. team showed improvement, especially with the centres and defence. Miss Wyatt starred in defending the basket from Miss Reynolds, the captain and best player of the opposing team. The score piled up for the Physicals Eds. The R.V.C. were stronger in the second half, but they were too far behind to catch up, and at the finish, the score was 19-8 in favor of the Physical Eds.

It was hard to distinguish between the first and second teams, the latter played so well. There was a great deal of fouling on both sides, which made the game slow to watch. The final score was 17-8 in favor of the Physical Eds. This is the first game the second team has lost.

Senior Team.
M. Spier, R. Goodwin, forwards; G. McDonald, R. Salomon, centres; W. Wyatt, G. Gardner, defence.

Junior Team.
J. Klein, J. McCullough, forwards; G. Craig, R. Ford, centres; F. Grindley, K. Milligan, defence.

DEFIANCE BREATHED IN NEW COLLEGE PAPER.

Columbia and California Papers Invite Free Expression of Opinions from Students.

In two new college papers which have recently been launched, a new note is sounded. The publications are the Student Opinion, issued weekly at the University of California, and the Challenge, a monthly published at Columbia University. Their avowed purpose is to raise the standard of student activities and to secure greater independence of speech for the College journals. The motto of the Challenge is as follows:

"Conservatism and suppression of free expression of opinion have resulted in Challenge.
"Challenge is a magazine organized to stimulate free expression of opinion among students, to the end that each American college and university may become a conscious, informed and intellectual democracy."
The Student Opinion came into existence in response to a large student demand for a medium of expression on student "politics," cleaner athletics, a more popular and democratic expression in the student governing body and for leadership against drinking and its influences. These publications put forth a new doctrine and it will be interesting to see just what results they will produce.

THOSE GIANT GUNS.

(New York Sun.)
An amateur naval expert in England who has discovered that the Germans have a 17-inch naval gun that will shoot across the Channel, says that "if von Spee's flagship had been armed with 17-inchers he could have sunk the Invincible." To this a better informed student of deep sea ordnance retorts that the German Admiral's ship would certainly have turned turtle if 17-inch guns had been put into her. At any rate, an attempt to fire them would have sunk his ship. Such a big gun requires a very solid setting, and only big ships can carry batteries of 12-inchers, 13.5-inchers, 14-inchers, and so on.

ONLY THREE NON-VOLUNTEERS.

(London Telegraph.)
Under Lord Derby's scheme it is believed that the first honors will fall in the provinces to Cromford, near Matlock, a village of 1,000 inhabitants. All the single men without exception offered themselves for service, and all but three of the married men did the same.

UNIVERSITIES' CO. NOW ALMOST UP TO ITS FULL STRENGTH

Men Were Well Treated By the People of St. Lambert.

VACCINATION LAST WEEK

Basketball Team Lost Match With the North Branch Y.M.C.A.

The 5th Universities' Company is now about up to strength. There are still a few members of the company in the hospital, which makes it ten or fifteen men short, but including these the 5th draft of the P.P.C.L.I. are ready.

Last week the men were vaccinated, which is an indication that the men will be leaving in a short time, possibly in three or four weeks. No men have as yet been recommended as sergeants, but it is understood that some will be given their three stripes in a few days. With the departure of the 5th Company there is every indication that a 6th will be formed, as each reinforcement of the P.P.C.L.I. has proved the quickest recruiting unit of any in Canada. This, however, has not been officially announced by the Government.

Several members of the company took advantage of an invitation to a play, staged by the amateur Dramatic Association in St. Lambert's last Friday night. About twenty-five went over in a special car. Reserved seats were given to the men and afterwards a lunch was served and cigarettes were passed around. Those who went cannot give enough praise to the people of St. Lambert's for the way in which they were used.

Saturday night a basketball team representing the Company played the North Branch of the Y.M.C.A. The game was unusually rough and two or three men were injured at the beginning of the game. The vaccination of last week handicapped the men of the P.P.C.L.I. and the Y.M.C.A. were able to win by the large score of 39-19.

MAY LIFT ATHLETES' BAN

Yale Cases To Be Settled Soon, It Is Rumored.

Whether Harry Le Gore, Bob Rhett, Arthur Milburn, Billy Easton and Spencer Pumpelly, the best players of the Yale baseball nine, will be allowed to compete in any form of college athletics again will be known within another week.

Reports were current here that a meeting of the eligibility committees of Yale, Princeton and Harvard would be held and the question settled. Prof. Robert N. Corwin, chairman of the Yale Athletic Committee, and Yale's representative at the former sessions of the committees from the three universities, could not be located, but a Yale baseball official said that he understood that the rumor was true.

WESTERN CANADA ENROLLMENT.

The enlistment from the ranks of Western Canada College old boys continues to grow very rapidly. Within the last few weeks the principal, Dr. McRae, has heard of twelve more old boys in this connection. The total to date now serving King and country reaches the magnificent number of 126. This means Western Canada College has now one-half a company or two platoons enlisted. These old boys are pretty well scattered. One is a lieutenant in India, while another, who joined as a private in Toronto University, is now a lieutenant with the British forces in Persia.

CORPORAL NOW

"Jack" Hall, who joined the N. C. O. Class of the 148th, has received his Corporal's stripes.

COMPANY DRILL HELD ON CAMPUS

Rumored That the Battalion Will Hold All-Night March Next Saturday.

A prayer of thanksgiving was uttered by the members of "B" Company Saturday when, instead of marching down to the Drill Hall on Craig street, the Company, in charge of Capt. Molson, marched up to the Campus and spent the afternoon in company drill and extended order work. For the past few weeks the Company have been putting in all their time on mutual instruction, with the result that they were getting rather stale as far as working together was concerned. As the Battalion will likely be inspected in another few weeks, it is desirable that the Company should get into working order again, and so the Campus drill on Saturday.

The men were first of all put through company movements by Capt. Molson, and then the platoon commanders took charge of their own platoons, and the next half hour was spent in extended order drill. The Company was then given ten minutes' physical drill by Company Sergeant-Major Smith, and they were allowed to smoke for a few minutes, after which the platoon commanders took their platoons for platoon drill.

The Campus was in fine shape, the snow being packed down hard by the men of the 5th Universities Company and also the N.C.O.'s Class of the 148th, with the result that drilling was made very pleasant, and the men of the Company were all well satisfied with their afternoon's workout, and especially when they were dismissed at 5:30, which is something new for "B" Company.

On Friday afternoon the Company was given a lecture by Lieut.-Col. A. A. Magee, officer commanding the 148th Overseas Battalion, C.E.F., on "Camps and bivouacs." This is the second lecture which Lieut.-Col. Magee has given to the Company, and both have been much appreciated. The lecture on "Camps and bivouacs" was very instructive, Lieut.-Col. Magee talking to the men on parts of the subject which were cropping up in the present war.

It has been rumored around that the Battalion will take a long route march next Saturday, starting in the afternoon, and not returning until midnight. It is to be hoped that this rumor will become a reality, as many in the Battalion still remember the good times which were the result of the long route marches held last year.

DR. C. DE G. ASHLEY DEAD.

Dean of the New York University Law School for Twenty Years.

Dr. Clarence De Grand Ashley, Dean of the New York University Law School, is dead in New York. His death was caused by hemorrhages after an attack of the grippe, from which he had been suffering for two weeks.

Dr. Ashley was Dean of the New York University Law School since 1896 when the Metropolitan Law School, of which he was the principal founder, was united with the law department of New York University. He had also been actively engaged in the practice of law in New York for 35 years.

Dr. Ashley was a strong advocate for the continuation of night law schools, which were at one time opposed by the American Law School Association.

Dr. Ashley was born in Boston in 1851, and obtained his preparatory education for Yale University at the Phillips Andover Academy. In 1873 he was graduated from Yale, and was admitted to the bar in 1879. He helped to organize and was Professor of Law at the Metropolitan Law School from 1891 to 1895. He had also been a non-resident lecturer of law at Bryn Mawr College since 1899.

In his legal practice he had represented some distinguished clients and estates. Among his writings were "Cases on Contracts" and "The Law of Contracts."

ELOQUENT PLEA FOR MAN.

Woman's College Roused Over Anonymous Verses in Students' Paper.

Wellesley College girls are very much disturbed over the verses of a senior, whose name Miss Miriam Vidler, editor of the College News, refuses to divulge, but who in last week's issue called loudly in poetry for a man. Two verses are:

"I'd give my month's allowance for a man,
Or, having spent it, I'll give up what I can.
For what is prom without a young recruit.
A tall Apollo in a full dress suit,
To pilot down the receiving line,
While your proprietary smile says,
'He's mine?'"

"And yet I've reached the end of my resources,
I cannot find a man by human breeds.
O you who have a corner on the brand
That's known as Homo Sapiens, my demand
Must move your stony heart until it grants
A single man—no need for 'sapiens'
if he dances!"

"The verses cast suspicion on all of us," said one senior, who has a flock of young men in her train.

FORM BATTALION AT TORONTO FOR TRAINING OFFICERS

Students Leave Studies and Enroll For Overseas.

WILL CAMP AT NIAGARA

Members of Unit Will Be Drafted Into Other Battalions As Officers.

Toronto, January 30.—At a meeting of the Students' Council last evening, it was decided that Varsity's energies in military matters should take the form of an Overseas Training Battalion, a regularly organized overseas unit, the members of which will be trained for officers' commissions. This plan will be discussed by the representatives of the Council with their various faculties. On Monday, the results of the faculty conferences will be produced at another meeting. The final decision will be delivered to President Falconer. And he will then proceed to Ottawa to negotiate the arrangements.

This is the most momentous event of the year in military circles. The new Training Battalion will differ entirely from the former branch of the Officers' Training Corps at Varsity, in that it will be an established battalion, fully organized as such. In the old O.T.C. arrangement, the students did not sign up for overseas. They merely did a little training aside from their regular academic work, except, of course, those who went into the thing seriously and who took commissions.

Every student who joins the proposed Training Battalion will sign up for overseas, drop all his academic work, and proceed with his studies as a private in a regular battalion. But it is planned that a guarantee will be given that every man who is likely to make an efficient officer will not only be given a commission, but will be given a commission in some overseas battalion.

There is no doubt whatever but that this plan will be accepted, and that within a few weeks the Training Battalion will be organized. In October of 1914, when the branch O.T.C. was formed, there was not an appreciation of the size to which the present conflict would grow. The O.T.C. provided an opportunity for Varsity's liveliest spirits. And to-day, nearly 1,700 of her students and alumni are on active service. But it is now recognized by every Varsity man that there is need of him and that his education is at a premium in the demand for competent officers. To what extent the Training Battalion will be filled by Varsity men is not known, but from President Falconer's outline of the scheme last week it is presumed that others than Varsity men, young men specially fitted and admitted by some competent judge of men, will also be given the privilege of training in the Varsity unit.

It will not go overseas as a unit. The men, as they develop, will be commissioned in other overseas units. Members of the Students' Council are of the opinion that from February to May will be taken up in organization and lectures in or around Varsity. In May, the Training Battalion will take up quarters at Niagara, where the practical work of training will be proceeded with. And from May till October, the members of the Battalion will be commissioned as they show proficiency.

Col. W. R. Lang, who is now in command of the Provisional School of Instruction, was head of the Varsity O.T.C. Whether he will be given command of the new battalion is not known. Major A. D. Le Pan, another prominent Varsity military man, is also attached to the P.S.I., and is mentioned in connection with the new unit.

All these things, however, are to be dealt with later, when President Falconer goes to Ottawa. In fact, until after the Monday meeting, President Falconer knows nothing of the plan. But there is no room for doubt in the matter, as President Falconer has conferred with Gen. W. A. Logie on the matter of Varsity's best course of action.

COTTON RUNS OUT.

R.V.C. Red Cross Will Fold Gauze Instead of Rolling Bandages.

Owing to the fact that no more cotton for bandages is obtainable from the Red Cross Society, the work done in the Common Room will be of a different character from now on. Students are asked to come to the Common Room on Tuesday and Friday afternoons, when gauze will be folded from 2.30 till 5. The work begins on February 1, when a large attendance is hoped for.

NEED FOR CAUTION.

(London Express.)
In a certain borough in the north of London one man who had been invited to enlist wrote as follows to the local recruiting committee: "Do not feel I ought to leave my wife while there are any single men left at home in this district."

ARTS JUNIORS OFF TO A GOOD START

Succeeded in Whitewashing the Sophomore Hockey Team; Score Was 3-0.

The class hockey season was ushered in on Saturday morning, when the combined teams of Arts '16 and '17 applied the whitewash to the Sophomores in Arts, the final score being 3 to 0. Neither team showed any very excellent hockey ability, but what there was of it the Juniors and Seniors had the edge, and, with a little more practice, they will be able to make a very creditable showing against the remaining teams which they have to go up against. All through the game the Sophomores showed great lack of practice, their team work being very poor, while their shooting was worse, many excellent chances to score being missed by them owing to wretched shooting and bad passing.

For the Juniors, because the team may be called the Junior team, since there was only one '16 man on, and he only graced the ice for half the time, it may be said that they at least showed a semblance of team play. Although during the first half this was dormant, yet during the last part of the game the members of the team woke up and played fairly good hockey, the two goals which were made during the last period being put in by excellent passing.

The defence of the Juniors was in many ways responsible for their victory, since they never allowed the losers to approach within vulnerable distance of their goals. Magor and Allen both put up fine games, while Viner, in goal, brushed aside everything that came within sight of him. On the forward line everybody played well, and no one man can be singled out as being superior. Cassidy, the captain of the Juniors, was perhaps the speediest man on the ice. His work was excellent at all times, and he was always on hand to catch up any spare shots, and in this way he netted the two goals for his team in the second half, first taking the puck from Allen's pass, and fooling Hutchinson, and a few minutes afterwards by receiving a pass from Magor, once more lodged the puck in the sophomore net. MacDermot played a very effective game on the forward line, his checking being a feature of the match. MacDermot netted the first goal of the match for his team on a lone rush.

For the losers, McGillbown was probably the best man. His speed was his chief asset, and, if it hadn't been for the winners' defence, there would have been more to hear from him. The defence of the losers was the best part of their team as their forward line was very weak. Their passing was poor and their combination worse, with the result that for the majority of the game the play was at their own end. The teams lined up as follows:

'17-'16 (3). '18 (3).
Viner Goal . . . Hutchinson
Allen Defence . . . Smith
Magor Defence . . . McLeod
Cassidy . . . Centre . . . McGillbown
MacDermot . . Right wing . . Henry
Kerr Spare . . . McGreer

RAILWAY GRAD. MEETING.

Allan McLeod, '11, Gives a Talk on Way Freight Service.

A meeting of the Graduates' Railway Club was held Saturday evening in the Engineering Building. The business of the evening was the confirmation of the election of Mr. E. Lawrence, '14, as temporary secretary-treasurer of the club, succeeding Corp. Jack Hall, who has enlisted in the 148th.

Mr. Allan McLeod, '11, gave a very interesting talk on operation, dealing principally with various aspects of the handling of way freight business. His experience as trainmaster for the C. P. R. at Havelock provided him with plenty of material for his talk. An informal discussion of the points brought up followed and proved of great value.

In Memory of Private Thomas

The night is dark and all is still as our thoughts go back to one, Who 'mid the glow of early life must call his duties done. He came to us so strong and bold, so full of life and fun. For his only care was to take the dare and face the tyrant Hun.

But the scythe of fate, with a callous stroke, smote his heart, so young and gay, And to-night he sleeps at the city morgue in a rough box cold and gray. Oh! His heart was true as his eyes were blue, and his face had a manly glow, Ere death's stalked on with his sickle drawn and smote the awful blow.

And now to-night all cold and white he rests in silent bliss, To feel no more from "The Union" door the morning sunlight's kiss. In a day or so with our arms reversed, through the city streets we'll tread, With our muffled drums and firing squad paying honor to one dead.

Yet our hearts will yearn 'mid our duty stern for his quiet manly form, As we sail away on some future day to face the bullets' storm.

Infantry, recently reported seriously wounded, is at Boulogne, suffering from a gunshot wound.

Lieut. L. B. Reynolds, Sci. '03, serving with the Royal Engineers, writes: "Address me now 174 Co. R.E., B.E.F., France. There are some of the original eight of us with the Canadian Engineers now. Capt. A. W. Davis, Sci. '98, is with the 177th Company, Royal Engineers. G. B. Webster, Sci. '01, is with another company, and A. B. R. - chie, Sci. '06, is with the 181st. Davis has been wounded, but has been back at the front for some time. I have escaped so far, with the exception of a graze on the ear and forehead. A. J. L. Evans is dead. He was killed by a rifle grenade while acting as mining officer to the 1st Canadian Brigade. Mining is the most important work on the line these days, and it is a very interesting and exciting game, especially when Fritz has the start on you."

Captain A. C. P. Howard, Arts '97, Med. '01, who has been serving with No. 3 Canadian General Hospital, has returned to Canada and will resume his duties at the University of Iowa.

Capt. J. J. Ower, Arts '05, Med. '09, has returned as medical officer in charge of wounded soldiers.

Mrs. D. A. Taylor, wife of Dr. Dick A. Taylor, Med. '01, died recently in Lethbridge, Alta. The late Mrs. Taylor was a daughter of the late John Price, of Havelock, N.B.

W. Gordon Brown, Arts '04, Sci. '07, will take his Ph.D. degree in chemistry at Yale this spring. He is now science master in the Hopkins Academy in New Haven.

The marriage took place at Amherst, N.S., last week of Miss Helen M. Christie, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Christie, of that city, and Leighon Stewart, Sci. '09, formerly of Summerside, P.E.I., and now of Santiago, South America.

The following McGill men are in training at the Canadian Engineers' depot at Lansdowne Park at Ottawa: Captain S. D. Parker, Science '11; Lieut. O. M. Stitt, Sci. '08; Lieut. C. C. Ross, Sci. '08; Lieut. J. H. Forbes, Sci. '08; Lieut. J. A. McKinnon, Sci. '09; Lieut. A. G. Haultain, Sci. '10; Lieut. J. McAlister, Sci. '10; Lieut. C. Ivey, Sci. '11; Lieut. G. A. Johnson, Sci. '12; Lieut. J. D. Armstrong, Arts '10, Sci. '12; Lieut. H. S. Kennedy, Sci. '14; Lieut. Howard Kennedy, Sci. '14; Lieut. J. B. Thom, Sci. '14; Lieut. J. A. Wood, Sci. '14; Lieut. A. J. Staples, Sci. '15; Lieut. D. B. Armstrong, Sci. '16; Lieut. A. C. McLean, Sci. '18.

Dr. Reginald de Lotbiniere Harwood, Med. '95, is now officer commanding the 51st Battalion, C.E.F. Since war has broken out, Lieut.-Col. Harwood has enlisted and trained some 2,000 men, out of which he has sent reinforcements to infantry units besides the Engineers.

Lieut. D. M. Mathieson, Sci. '07, who was awarded the Military Cross some time ago, has been promoted to the rank of captain in the Canadian Engineers.

Dr. G. E. Bayfield, Med. '98, who has joined the Royal Army Medical Corps overseas with the rank of captain, was at the time of his enlistment practising his profession at Peace River, Alta.

"Singing cheerfully in water up to the neck or thigh, constructing a cement trench of communication, repairing a wash-out, and sniping away at the opposing Hunns, the boys of the 5th Battalion, a western unit, are doing their bit at Hill 63 or elsewhere on the western front. When I left, the boys sent best wishes back to Canada," said Captain J. A. Crozier, Med. '02, of Port Arthur, who has just returned to Canada. "They're going to win, but they think the war may last another year, and the slogan is 'More men'." Capt. Crozier, medical man to the 5th, says that the gallant battalion has had 1800 reinforcements.

Dr. S. W. Hewitson, Med. '93, has been appointed to take command of No. 8 Field Ambulance, C.E.F., about to be organized at Calgary, Alta. Dr. Hewitson will hold the rank of lieutenant-colonel. He has been a major in the Canadian Militia Medical Services.

Mme. Puech (Mlle. M. L. Melleau, formerly of the R.V.C. staff), in the absence of her husband at the front, is in charge of the office of the Societe pour l'Arbitrage entre-Nations, at 24 rue Pierre Curie, Paris. This office, now managed entirely by women, has practically resolved itself into an agency for tracing men reported "missing" in the various army lists. Working in conjunction with the International Bureau at Bern, it is able to prosecute enquiries in many directions for the satisfaction of anxious relatives, whether French, English or German. To this humane work, Mme. Puech has added another, that of the superintendence of a society for the care of children impoverished by the war. The chief duty of this organization, La Sauvegarde des Enfants, is to find homes for the children, many of them orphans driven out of the war zone in the north-east of France. Many hundreds of these little refugees have been placed with benevolent families in the south and west, while others are cared for in Paris.

Catherine H. Travis (1895) sailed for Serbia last August to undertake the duties of chief physician in a Babies' Hospital at Nish. The foundation and organization of this hospital were undertaken by Madame Mabel Grouitch, an American woman, wife of the Serbian Under Secretary for Foreign Affairs. The troubled state of Serbia has made it difficult to transmit news, so that Dr. Travis's friends are almost without definite information at the present time. A cable from Madame Grouitch, dated some time in November, announced that her hospital unit had volunteered for war service and had been accepted. Later, newspaper stories declared that Dr. Travis was with Lady Paget, and, like her, a prisoner in the hands of the Bulgarians. The last address obtainable is: To the American Consul at Salonika, Greece, for Dr. C. H. Travis, Mabel Grouitch Baby Hospital, Nish, Serbia.

Mrs. W. L. Grant (Maude E. Parkin, '03) has gone to England with her children, Prof. Grant having volunteered for active service.

Miss Ella L. Smith, '05, has given a course of ten extension lectures at McGill upon the history of Canada since 1867.

Miss Inez M. Baylis, '07, has returned from Philadelphia for the winter, and is working in the statistical department of the Patriotic Fund.

Miss Helen M. Kydd is working in the statistical department of the Patriotic Fund.

Mrs. W. L. Cassels (K. Lawrence, '12) was married immediately before Mr. Cassels' departure on active service.

Mrs. A. S. Eve (Elizabeth Brooks, '04) has been actively engaged in looking after the comfort of the men of

ANNUAL WICKSTEED COMPETITION WILL BE HELD AS USUAL

Historic Affair Due to Munificence of Dr. Wicksteed.

HELD FOR THIRTY YEARS

The Prizes Won At This Annual Event Are Presented at Convocation.

The question of holding the annual Wicksteed gymnastic competition has been under consideration, and it is now definitely decided that it is to be held this year as usual. This is the only real athletic contest of the University, as the awards, made possible by the munificence of the late Dr. R. J. Wicksteed, '63, are determined by judges appointed by the Corporation of the University and are presented at convocation.

Historically, this competition is of the greatest interest, it having been held annually for the past thirty years, and has always been productive of the keenest interest.

The competition is in two divisions, the senior for the Wicksteed silver medal and small "M," which is confined to men of the graduating class who have attended the gymnasium for at least two sessions; and the junior, for the Wicksteed bronze medal and small "M," being confined to second and third-year students who have attended the gymnasium for at least two sessions. In addition to the above competitions, there has been, for the past three years, a special competition for first-year students, a trophy being provided for this purpose by Dr. F. W. Harvey. A similar competition is to be held this season.

It is not necessary that competitors be expert and experienced gymnasts, as the required movements are taken from those given in the regular gymnasium class work. The movements are of such a nature as to permit of those students competing who have not had a great deal of experience, while still allowing the experienced performer an opportunity to score on form and precision.

The competition has usually consisted of movements on the parallel and horizontal bars, horse, buck, various drill movements and gymnastic dancing. In addition there is usually an athletic event—the fence vault or something of that nature.

The number of competitors has been growing steadily, and last year all previous records were broken with an entry list of fourteen. It is expected that this year the record will be equalled, if not broken. Now is the time for intending competitors to commence working on the various pieces of apparatus, and as occasion demands special practice periods will be held on the various phases of the contest. The group system of instruction will be tried again to-morrow afternoon on movements preparatory to those that will be required.

The work for students who do not desire to compete, and particularly for those of the upper years, will not be interfered with in any way, and all students desirous of a good, vigorous work-out are assured of such at any of the regular classes, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, at 5.15 p.m.

The second medical examination for first-year men, announced to take place this week, has been indefinitely postponed, and classes are to continue as usual unless otherwise notified.

The Third and Fourth Universities Overseas Companies recruited by Capt. Eve, and now of the men of the 148th Regiment, to which her husband is attached as major.

Mrs. A. D. Fry (H. L. Botterell, '90) is hon. treasurer of the St. George's Branch of the Red Cross Society.

Mrs. F. Shearwood (M. H. Henderson, '90) has acted throughout the summer and winter as purchasing agent for the Quebec Provincial Board of the Red Cross Society.

Miss Eleanor Tatley, '92, is ward organizer to the Patriotic Fund.

Miss I. E. Brittain, '94, is a representative of the Protestant Teachers' Association upon the Protestant Committee of the Council of Public Instruction, Quebec.

Miss Esther Smith, '01, had a trying experience in Manchuria. She became seriously ill, and made a seven days' journey by a springless hand-cart and small steamer to Seoul hospital. She has happily recovered, and has returned to the mission station at Yung Jung.

Mrs. C. G. Porter (W. Mathewson, '12) is in England while her husband is on active service.

Miss Eleanor Steady, M.A., '13, is assistant secretary and French visitor for the northern district of the Charity Organization Society.

Miss Nora C. Braidwood, '15, is assisting in the purchasing department of the Red Cross Society, Belmont Park.

Miss Mary C. C. Childs, '15, is in training in the Montreal Baby and Foundling Hospital.

Miss Clara Fritz, '14, principal of the Academy at Clarenceville, Que., was in the city for the week-end.

SHAMROCKS DEFEAT MCGILL IN HOCKEY

Junior Team Was Defeated By a Close Margin in Local Hockey League.

The McGill Junior Hockey Team lost to the Shamrocks at the Arena on Saturday afternoon, in a closely contested game. The final score was 3-2 in favor of Shamrocks. The game was fast and clean throughout, not a penalty being given during the entire game.

The McGill men had the better of the play throughout, but they seemed to lack the necessary scoring ability. Several times the forwards missed shots when they had only the goalkeeper to pass.

At the very start of the game the Shamrocks rushed matters, and soon managed to put the puck past Stewart. Our men seemed lost on the large ice surface, all the practices having been held on the Campus Rink. They soon settled down, however, and the forwards had several good chances to score, but missed them all. In one case Lowry, who was playing a fine game at this time, went through the Shamrocks' defence and had only the goalkeeper in front of him. Unfortunately for him, the puck started to roll, and when he shot, went right over the top of the nets. With about ten minutes to go, Jack Nutter checked a Shamrock rush, and skating the whole length of the rink, evened up the score. A few minutes later he repeated this performance, and made it 2-1 for McGill. The first period ended with McGill forcing the play, but they were unable to score again.

The second period started out with a rush, and the McGill forwards, by some clever combination, carried the puck up to the Shamrock end, only to miss what seemed an easy chance to score. The Shamrock men recovered the puck, and after a clever bit of stick-handling, Lyons managed to make it two all. From this time on the play saw-sawed from end to end, with both sides unable to score. It was at this period that the McGill forwards showed their lack of condition. Time and again they would break away, only to be caught by the Shamrock forwards checking back. With about five minutes to go the Shamrocks made a four-man rush and scored what proved to be the winning goal. The game ended with McGill trying hard to even up the score, but without success.

For McGill, Nutter and Lowry showed up the best, while Lyons starred for Shamrocks.

Nutter was by far the best man on the ice. He not only scored both goals, but he saved many a score by effectively breaking up dangerous rushes. The forwards all showed up well, with Lowry a little better than the rest, due to his being in better condition. The defence also worked well together, and the whole team is fast rounding into shape.

There will be a practice from 8 to 9 on Tuesday night, and another one on Wednesday from 7 to 8 p.m. It is absolutely necessary that every man be out both these nights, as a hard game is expected against Loyola on Friday. After the game on Saturday, the players elected A. S. Poe, of Sci. '17, to be captain.

Things Theatrical

AT THE IMPERIAL.

Commencing Sunday, the Imperial will make three distinct changes of programme weekly—every Sunday, Wednesday and Friday—with a big feature filmplay at every change. To-day and to-morrow patrons will have an opportunity of seeing Frank L. Packard's novel, "Greater Love Hath No Man," with the eminent dramatic star, Emmet Corrigan, in the leading role. This beautiful story of a man who, through gratitude to his foster-parent, gives up his life that another may live, was pictured by Metro, and throughout its 250 scenes is bound to hold the most critical audience spellbound. Especial interest should be manifested in this picture, as Mr. Packard is a Montrealer.

Of the long list of plays adapted for the screen, one well suited to the camera's requirements and one whose varying situations lend themselves to the lights and shades of exceptional photographic art, is "The Cave Man," which will be shown Wednesday and Thursday, featuring Robert Edeson in the character of Haulick Smagg. "The Cave Man" was written as a Smart Set Magazine story by Gelett Burgess, and originally produced in Providence, R.I., as a legitimate comedy-drama, with Mr. Edeson in the portrayal of the leading character.

Emmy Wehlen, the beautiful and brilliant young actress, created such a favorable impression as the star of "Marriage à la Carte" at the Casino Theatre in New York that she now makes her debut at the Imperial on Friday and Saturday in the production of "When a Woman Loves," in which she has the support of a selected cast, headed by the noted screen actor, Mr. Arthur Ashley. "When a Woman Loves" is the first appearance of Miss Wehlen on any screen, and marks a new venture in filmdom.

Annie Purdy, '15, have entered the Medical School of Johns Hopkins University.

Miss Gladys Story, '15, is spending the year at home, and is attending a course in bacteriology given by Dr. Westbrook, president of the University of British Columbia.

HARVARD CRIMSON DEFEATED MCGILL AFTER POOR GAME

Lack of Condition Cause of McGill's Loss.

LOST MANY CHANCES

Scott in Goal Keeps the Score Down By Some Fine Stops.

(Special to The McGill Daily.)

Boston Arena, Jan. 29.—Lack of condition and failure to score when opportunities presented themselves were the cause of the defeat of the McGill team in its annual game with the Harvard Crimson here to-night. The Red and White played brilliant hockey at times but the team was overshadowed by the condition and combination work of the Harvard forward line, which would have scored on many occasions if it had not been for the stellar work of Scott in goal. Rooney, Andrews and McCullough, on the McGill forward line, played good individual hockey, but their failure to co-operate on the attack resulted in failure to penetrate the enemy's defence. Rooney's stickhandling and his skating were of much value to McGill. Captain Rooney had the crowd on its feet several times with his sensational work, and fully lived up to advance notices, which heralded him as a "bristling bearcat." George Percy, Harvard's strong man, also showed up to advantage. There were plenty of McGill men in the crowd, with the usual number of McGill alumni in evidence. Betting was in favor of McGill before the game started.

Harvard started off the play with a rush, their team playing their defence away down the ice. After about four minutes of play, Percy, of Harvard, put in the first goal for the Crimson. Play was now even. Rooney was penalized for two minutes for hooking. Play now became slow and ragged. Madden nearly scored on an end-to-end rush. Scott in goal put up a fine game for the McGill team, many hot shots failing to get past him. McCullough nearly netted another goal for Harvard, but Scott saved. In a mix-up, Rooney secured the puck and tied the score. Hibbard then replaced Perkins, and McGill was playing very well when half-time was called.

Score—Harvard 1, McGill 1.
Second Half.

Harvard started the half by losing a fine chance to score. The referees were very slack on offside. Harvard took the lead by scoring in a mix-up with five men in front of the McGill goal. Jacques went on instead of Andrews; later Andrews resumed play. At this period McGill forced the play and finally scored, but the goal was not allowed. Harvard again scored with a four-man rush, and a few minutes later fooled Scott with another tally.

Final score—Harvard 4, McGill 1.

Intermediate Basketball Tied With the Central "Y" for First Place.

The McGill intermediate basketball team beat the Railroad Y.M.C.A. team at the Central Y.M.C.A. The game was very fast and interesting, despite the one-sided score, 37 to 15. The team played in better form than heretofore this season, and by this win are now tied with the Central "Y" for first honors in the Interprovincial League. Present form, if kept up, should land the team in first place eventually.

The McGill line-up was as follows: Forwards, Pitts and Heertz; centre, Foss; guards, Ferguson and Willis-croft.

The junior team won their first game with a close score after a stiff battle. This was due to a great improvement in team work.

PROF. WILLEY AT N. H. SOCIETY.

At the regular monthly meeting of the society to be held this evening, a very important paper will be read by Prof. Arthur Willey, entitled, "Circulation of Food in the Sea," illustrated with specially prepared lantern slides.

REVIEW OF WEEK'S DOINGS

Much activity was displayed in student affairs last week. The long-looked-for skating party was held on Friday evening, and was a great success. A large number of students turned out, and more parties will be held in the future, as this was so successful. The Hockey Team won its weekly game in the City League last Monday by defeating the Nationals 6-1. They had a hard practice on Wednesday, in preparation for their game with Harvard on Saturday. The Students' Council held their weekly meeting on Monday, and disposed of a number of matters. The question of the annual scrap was discussed, but no decision was made. The weekly meeting of "The Lit" was postponed. It was announced that the Senior Play would be held on February 10th. Both the Wrestlers and the Fencers had good practices last week. The Fencers were in some of the numbers at the C.O.T.C. Smoker last Wednesday. The Smoker turned out as a fine success, and was thoroughly enjoyed by all present. The 148th started recruiting last week, and a large number of desirable men responded. The Fifth Company is up to strength, and is training hard. They expect to leave for England shortly. An authorization for a sixth company has been applied for. An announcement was made that Frederick Palmer was coming to the city, and a special invitation was extended to McGill men to hear him. The Medical Dinner this year is to be out of the ordinary. It is to be held at the Ritz-Carlton on February 4th. Sir George Foster will be the principal speaker. Med. '16 gave a banquet on Thursday to the men who have returned from France, and it was most enjoyable. The Wesleyan College held their banquet on Friday, and it was voted by all present to be the best yet. Dean Adams made an excellent speech before the Patriotic Committee last week. The Tennis Club, Historical Club, Alumnae Society, and Eastern Townships Club all held successful meetings last week. The Senior Basketball Team won their game last week, but the Juniors lost theirs.

FANCY SKATING CLUB.

There will be a meeting of the McGill Fancy Skating Club to-day, at 5 o'clock, on the Campus Rink.

The Senior McGill Hockey Squad

MCGILL WILL MEET SHAMROCKS IN THE CITY LEAGUE TO-NIGHT.
